

PULENTA
E S T A T E

Pulenta Estate is the winery of brothers Hugo and Eduardo Pulenta

The winery is located in Alto Agrelo, Luján de Cuyo, Mendoza, Argentina. Surrounded by 320 acres of estate vineyards, the winery enjoys excellent climatic conditions for high quality wine growing and sits at an elevation of 3,200 feet. The irrigation system utilizes snowmelt from the Andes mountains to support the vines in this semi-desert environment.

The 3rd generation in Argentina of this Italian family, Eduardo the winemaker and Hugo the visionary decided to follow the family tradition and start their own winery with a focus on highest quality and small-lot production.

Each wine is carefully handcrafted with a focus on balance, following the winery's mission:

“Making a great wine is an act of generosity, considering always the one who will taste it.
Our mission is to produce limited series of great wines, proudly made in Argentina.”
